Crafted Lives
Stories and Studies of African American Quilters
BY PATRICIA A. TURNER
FOREWORD BY KYRA E. HICKS
From the displays of Harriet Powers's creations at the turn of the twentieth century to the contemporary exhibits of such black art-quilts as those promoted by Carolyn Mazloomi, and such utilitarian expressions as the celebrated examples from Gee's Bend, Alabama, Turner uses quilts to assess the level of control African Americans have had or have not had over the materials they craft and the art they leave as legacy to new generations.

¡Viva la historieta!
Mexican Comics, NAFTA, and the Politics of Globalization
BY BRUCE CAMPBELL
This book critically examines the participation of Mexican comic books in the continuing debate over the character and consequences of globalization in Mexico. The focus of the book is on graphic narratives produced by and for Mexicans in the period following the 1994 implementation of the North American Free Trade Agreement. Eight chapters cover a broad range of contemporary Mexican comics, including works of propaganda, romance and adventure, graphic novels, a corporate “brand” series, didactic single-issue books, and a superhero parody series.

Let’s Make Some Noise
Axé and the African Roots of Brazilian Popular Music
BY CLARENCE BERNARD HENRY
Clarence Bernard Henry examines how the concepts of axé and Candomblé religion have been appropriated and reinvented in Brazilian popular music and culture. Featuring interviews with practitioners and local musicians, the book explains how many Brazilian popular music styles such as samba, bossa nova, samba-reggae, ijexá, and axé have musical and stylistic elements that stem from Afro-Brazilian religion.
